

South Asia is a region of extreme diversity geographically, religiously, and socioeconomically. Poverty in this region affects children, families, and individuals through high infant mortality, malnutrition, child labor, lack of education, child marriage, and HIV/AIDS, along with other significant health issues. Listed as an area within the 10/40 window where there are high concentrations of unreached people groups, the need for Christ-centered services is more important than ever!

One More Child has partnered with an amazing local ministry to provide Christian education for children, support for foster families, and care for those suffering from the physical and social effects of leprosy. Sponsoring a child from this area provides them with the means to break the cycle of poverty and have hope for a brighter future. Lives are being changed in South Asia because of people like you!
